Varsity to Hold
Student-Staff
War ConferenceWartime Function
Of University
To Be Discussed

Toronto, Nov. 28.—(C.U.P.)—Representatives of both students and staff of all faculties of the University will assemble at an All-University Conference Saturday, Dec. 12 to discuss and investigate the problems of the University in wartime, the Convening Committee of the Conference announced yesterday.

The Convening Committee, which has been sanctioned by the Students' Administrative Council, has been working out details of the proposed conference for the past two weeks. College and Faculty student executives have been advised of the Conference and will arrange for the appointment of their delegates during this week. Altogether some 65 students and 35 members of the staff are expected to attend.

The purpose of the Conference was described by Tom Nixon, president of the Victoria College Union, as follows:

"The Conference will consider what the function of the University in wartime should be, and whether or not this function is at present being fulfilled. In view of the fact that the Government is now considering its policy regarding higher education, the conference will seek to provide it with a crystallization of student-staff opinion on the matter.

"More specifically, the Conference will discuss such problems as conditions governing admittance to the University, the advisability of speeding up courses, and of adjusting courses to wartime needs, the role of military training on the campus, and the possibility of establishing a University Selective Service Board, etc.

"Although the Conference by its nature can speak only for the University of Toronto, it will seek to co-operate with similar conferences in other Canadian Universities, to promote a nation-wide expression of opinion on the matter."

Mr. Nixon discussed the matter with President H. J. Cody yesterday and the President received the idea of a Staff-Student Conference with enthusiasm.

Dr. Cody stated that he would be glad if he could discuss a report from the Conference at the Convention of University Presidents which will meet in Ottawa during the Christmas vacation.

The Convention Committee, elected at a meeting of students on Nov. 10, has drawn up the following scheme of representation:

The various colleges and faculties have been assigned delegates according to this list which is based on actual enrolment figures, except in the cases of S.P.S., Meds and Dents, where the problems are either practically solved, or not so complex as they are in other faculties, especially in Arts.

Tracy Strong, General
Secretary of Y.M.C.A.
Will Address StudentsWar Council to Sponsor
Meeting This Afternoon

An address by Mr. Tracy Strong will be the feature of a meeting in Moyse Hall at 5.00 p.m. today. The meeting, which is sponsored by the McGill War Council, will be open to all students. R. Stewart Willis, the President of the Students' Society and President of the General War Council, will preside.

Mr. Strong's topic will be "Students Behind Barbed Wire," which will probably include a discussion of the plight of students in Europe and Asia and the work being done for them by two organizations, the War Prisoners' Aid of the Y.M.C.A. and the International Student Service.

Mr. Strong has had over twenty years experience in the work of the World's Y.M.C.A. in Europe. He is the General Secretary of the World's Committee, and in that capacity heads the work of the War Prisoners' Aid of the Y.M.C.A. Until 1941, all Mr. Strong's work was carried on from Geneva, and since he has been on this side of the Atlantic he has continued his work from here, with two return trips.

Work of Prisoners' Aid

The War Prisoners' Aid was given responsibility under the Geneva Convention of 1929 for the recreational, cultural, educational, and general needs of prisoners of war. While the International Red Cross was made responsible for their physical welfare, Mr. Strong's organization is in direct contact with prisoners of war from both sides in various centres of internment, and it has been responsible for placing those workers affiliated with it who are from neutral countries in areas where they can best serve the needs of the war prisoners.

Due to his activity in connection with this organization, Mr. Strong has been in co-operation with the International Student Service, which is concerned primarily with the specialized needs of students among refugees and prisoners of war. One of his sons, Tracy Strong, Jr., has been organizing the work of student relief in the refugee internment camps in southern France.

Recent Travels and Work

Since the outbreak of the war, Mr. Strong has been constantly traveling in Europe and between Europe and America, while his family has been scattered in all parts of the world. While one son has been carrying on the above-mentioned work in France, another has been interned by the Japanese in Tientsin, China. Since Mr. Strong has been back in the Western Hemisphere, he has carried on negotiations with belligerent countries to expand the work of the War Prisoners' Aid among prisoners of war in all parts of the world.

Members of the Inner War Council have expressed the opinion that McGill is fortunate in having such a man, who has a first-hand knowledge of the great areas of conflict, to address its students, and they have asked for an especially large turnout.

Women's Debating Society

The Public Speaking Classes will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week in Room 106 of R.V.C. at 5.00 p.m. (2).

Speaks to McGill Students

TRACY STRONG, General Secretary of the World's Committee of the Y.M.C.A., who will be in Moyse Hall this afternoon to address an open meeting of the McGill War Council. Mr. Strong will present the activities of the organization in aiding student War prisoners.

War Council to Sponsor
Chinese Auction Series

The War Council is considering holding a number of Chinese auctions. These will be held from time to time to augment the McGill War Fund.

The Chinese auction is run similarly to an ordinary auction, but each bidder pays the difference between his bid and the previous one at the time of making the bid. Thus the object is won by the final bidder for a final payment that is much smaller than the value of the article sold.

In this way a large number of small bids are made, which should more than cover the value of the article auctioned. It is expected that a War Saving Certificate, War Bond, or some similar article will be disposed of at each of these auctions.

Every Student
To Greater Effort

To McGill Students—

This is a War Council issue of the Daily. Its purpose is to familiarize the campus with the War Council—its purpose, constitution and plans for the immediate future.

Aside from these objectives, it is hoped that this issue will stimulate a greater effort on the part of every student on the campus to a more useful and co-ordinated war effort. There are still a few, and fortunately only a very few, who are still not fully aware of the constructive war work that can be accomplished by students during their leisure time. To such students, I hope this issue will serve to stimulate them to play a greater part in the student war effort on the campus.

President, Students' Society;
President, War Council.

Work of I.S.S. in Canada
Described by McGill GroupMcGill Branch
Plans Campaign
To Raise Funds

At its first meeting of the year the War Council voted unanimously to support the work of I. S. S. in organizing the studies and supplementing the rationing of students in war-torn areas. It was agreed that this work was peculiarly a student concern and of value in preparing for the peace. Accordingly the executive was instructed to set up an I. S. S. committee to plan a finance and publicity campaign.

The committee has met twice. At present it has the following membership: Jean Mitchell, Mary M. Miller, Marjorie Cross, Ina Charleston, Bob Morris, Gordon Hatcher, Morrey Cross, Mickey Fainstat, and Jim Anderson. Further members from interested groups on the campus are expected. Jean Mitchell has been elected chairman. Material on the work of I.S.S. has been sent out to campus organizations and their support requested. The time of the meetings will not be 3.15 p.m. on Fridays as previously (Continued on Page Four)

Inner War Council Holds
Third Meeting of Year

Directly following the open meeting of the War Council in Moyse Hall this afternoon, the Inner War Council will meet at 8.00 p.m. in the Union, to continue with its program for the year.

The Inner War Council comprises the ex officio members of the War Council and the representatives of the club groups. These members will hear a talk by Mr. Tracy Strong, General Secretary of the World's Committee of the Y.M.C.A., on activities of the "Y" since the war began.

Today's meeting is the third of this term. Following business reports, the group will continue with last week's proposals.

Booths to Be Placed in Four Principal Campus Buildings

Tomorrow the voluntary registration of students for all phases of McGill's war effort will begin. This registration, which is organized by the War Council, is to be the only tabulation of potential student effort to be made during the present session, and will be carried out at booths in all the principal campus buildings.

During the previous year, whenever volunteers were needed for some new aspect of the university war effort, a special call was sent out to meet the needs of the moment. The result of this was that there were, in all, three separate registrations held over a period of two months, each one obtaining a poorer response from the student body than its predecessor. In order to prevent a repetition of this, the council this year has planned a comprehensive questionnaire, covering both the needs of the moment and other contingencies that may be expected to arise during the present session.

Questionnaire Described.

This questionnaire is divided up between two forms. One of these is only for those who are willing to enrol for the Red Cross blood donor service, and should not be filled out by students under eighteen years of age. This is a change from the procedure followed by the Red Cross in the past. Until the first of next week, the blood donor service has excluded women in Montreal, since the facilities for collecting the blood have not been extensive enough to exhaust the supply of male volunteers. This situation, however, no longer exists. The increase of activity on the war fronts has brought about a far greater immediate demand for blood plasma. Accordingly, starting next week, the Red Cross is accepting all volunteers, men or women, over the age of twenty-one. It is also accepting volunteers between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one, if they bring the written permission of their parents. The compensation offered for the sacrifice of 400 cc. of blood is a free meal of biscuits and coffee, this latter containing unlimited amounts of sugar, and, if last year's procedure is followed, the exemption from one parade.

The other form, reproduced on page four, contains eight questions, and calls for volunteers for all other war activities in which it is expected that large numbers of students may be needed. This form, which with the other form is to be given out at tables controlled by the Red Wing Society in the Arts, Engineering and Medical buildings, and in R.V.C., will involve no compulsion at any time. It is not intended as a renunciation of spare-time liberty; it is merely intended to give an indication of which students can and will do something useful towards winning the war.

The first two questions call for volunteers for part-time work in war industry and for human guinea-pigs for the Research Council. At the present time very few people are needed for either of these jobs. However, the present trend of (Continued on Page Four.)

I.S.S. in Canada.

The following letter was received by the European Student Relief fund from a German prisoner of war in Canada. It is indicative of the response that can come in the present crisis only through definite material help given in the spirit of good will.

"I have duly received your kind letter as well as your valuable gift of books, for which I beg to express my most sincere gratitude to you and your organization. It is certainly a great relief to know that there still exists in this world the idea of mutual help and understanding. Hoping that I shall soon be able to pay my share in helping to rebuild what has been destroyed."

When one surveys the task which lies ahead of our Student Relief effort, it seems overwhelming. On every front of the battle there is a job to be done in keeping the (Continued on Page Four.)

Outing Club Started Series of Lectures On Skiing Yesterday

Club Hut Will Open This Week-end at St. Marguerite

Last night at 5:15 p.m. Fred Urquhart gave his first lecture of the new term to an audience of ardent McGill Outing Club fans on the elementary principles of ski-turns and balance. The M.O.C. will sponsor these lectures by Mr. Urquhart for two months and they will include practical demonstrations as well as the theory of skiing.

The M.O.C. hut will be open starting this week-end, and this will permit many of the members to enjoy a day or two in the Laurentians. There will be a sign up in front of this house to enable those members who are new to the district and who go out by themselves to better identify the residence.

HIKES CONTINUE

The Sunday hikes of the club will continue until there is enough snow on the ground to warrant the start of the skiing season when the club will institute its weekly ski runs over ski trails of the Laurentians. These hikes will probably be run under the same system as last year. The group will be either divided into two groups, the more experienced skiers leading the way and the remainder of the group following in their trail or else the whole group will go together as one group. The other means the club will probably use will be to divide the group into two and each group will set out on trails suitable to their own ability.

The M.O.C. are counting upon having better tours this year and will put into use all of the trails that the club has cut this year on its Hikes through the mountains. It is claimed by the executive that this is one of the best trails in the Laurentians and overlaps the old Johannessen West trail from Shawbridge down to St. Marguerite.

JUNIORS TO COMPETE

This year because of the lack of senior skiers the Laurentian Zone committee will not be running many meets for seniors, concentrating mostly on the up and coming Juniors. The M.O.C. will try to take up the slack left by the almost complete withdrawal of the Zone committee from this field by sponsoring again this year the Intercompany meet in addition to the meets between the club itself.

Of the eight skiers who represented McGill in the unofficial meet against Dartmouth only Fitzpatrick, Hambrook and Scott are left. This year, however, McGill has been very fortunate in having a number of excellent skiers among the new group of freshmen at the university this year. These are headed by Don Drennan and Tom Bishop from Westmount High School and they scored very impressive victories as junior in the Zone meets. It was announced by the executive that ten or more boys have been given permission to join the Red Birds ski club only for the use of their hut and they will continue to compete under McGill colours.

Sports Talk

by Dave

The Montreal spotlight seems to be still dominated by baseball, three months after the close of the Royals baseball schedule. The suave, Puritanical Branch Rickey, new president of the now sissified Dodgers (no poker, no pinocle, no nothing) and therefore controller-general of Les Royaux de Montreal, was the center of attraction (outside of the gin, etc.) at a dinner given in his honour by Hector Racine.

Mr. Rickey bore out all previous predictions about himself in that he said nothing very factual, nothing that would come within ten feet of being a statement of policy and yet he left the banquet with all the news hungry scribes feeling as if they had just received a private interview with Adolph. Concerning the Sukeforth case, Rickey and Racine both said that Clyde had let the boys carouse on road trips and with a man like Rickey at the helm that would never do.

Too many people are apt to take this little gem of something or other and say "See, I told you there was a good reason." But just consider what Sukefy did with a bunch of rotten ball players (who spent their off duty hours drinking, being engineers apparently) and try and imagine where he could get with a team that could play ball and stay on the wagon, not act like a bunch of high school kids out on their first trip away from home. Perhaps the shrewdest remark all afternoon was made by the vice-president of the Brooklyn Trust Company, the man who guards the dough of the Dodger organization, when he said that the man who follows Clyde will have to produce or hit the road.

The Canadiens seem to be reverting back to form after a spectacular start. They increased their losing streak to five when they dropped two games over the week-end. There, however, is a good reason for the rapid drop in the quality of hockey played by the low-flying Frenchmen. Not only have the Habitués lost the mainstay of their defence, Gouppille, but many of their better players such as Maurice Richards and Terry Reardon are unable to play in games across the border and therefore are unable to play the brand of hockey that we would expect of these men. The fact that a player can not take part in half the league games and still play good hockey was shown last year when Terry Reardon played mediocre hockey until he was allowed to travel with the Flying Frenchmen.

The big Red machine which showed such great promise in their first victory are now reposing comfortably in the cellar following their two defeats by the Navy and the Army. Once again the lack of scoring punch resulted in the downfall of the collegians. It is about time that the hockey team learned that the only way to win a game is to put the puck in your opponents' nets.

Philosophical Society Meets this Evening

Tonight at 8:15 in the R.V.C. Common Room, Hugh Smart, third year honours student in Philosophy, will address the Philosophical Society on the topic, "The Ethics of Inheritance."

Since his interests run to economics as well as philosophy, Smart's speech will be economic as well as philosophic in scope. He will discuss the ethical basis for inheritance and determine what function is performed by those who inherit.

Members of the Political Economy Club have been issued an invitation by the Society's Executive to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Watt Will Compete in Net Finals This Week

Coed Basketball Begins Today

Al vs. B1 in M.H.S. Gym at 5.00

Coed Intersection Basketball will get under way to-morrow afternoon, when sections A1 and B1 will meet in the Montreal High Gym, from 5.00 to 6.00 p.m.

Owing to the large number of sections this year (11) it is impossible to plan the games so that each team will play every other team. As an alternative measure the sections have been divided into two round robins of six and five teams each. The winning teams of these two groups will play one another to decide the final champions.

By arranging the games in this way the basketball season will be over in February, instead of dragging on into March, when the girls usually lose interest.

The games will be played on Tuesdays and Fridays from 5.00 to 6.00 p.m., in the Montreal High Gym, and Fridays from 5.00 to 6.00 p.m. in the R.V.C. Upper Gym. Miss Jean Buchanan, whom the girls will remember from last year, has agreed to referee the Montreal High games; and the physical eds will referee the games in R.V.C.

A tentative schedule of dates and games has been posted on the R.V.C. notice board, and section athletic representatives are asked to consult this, and get their teams lined up as soon as possible.

Badminton on Saturday To Be Followed by Dance

The success of the last badminton tournament and dance has led the committee in charge to organize another such event, to be held on Saturday, December 5, at the Currie Gym. From all reports the players at the previous affair fully enjoyed themselves, and the managers are hoping for as good or even for a better turn out this time.

As before teams will be made up as the players arrive, so it is very important that people come early. Playing will begin as soon as partners have been arranged for, and will continue until 9.30 or 10.00 p.m. Then, when everyone is tired of battling the birdie around, dancing

Will Meet Winner Of Freisensbruch-Henneman Match

The men's singles tennis championship will be decided this week when Bob Watt meets the winner of the Henneman-Freisensbruch, on the floor of the Montreal Indoor tennis club. Watt reached here by defeating Jean Richer in one of the hardest fought matches of the tournament.

In this match Watt took the first set by a score of 6-4 but this did not show the true score of the game as Richer came back to take 2-6, 3-6. In the third set Watt was carried to eighteen games before he finally was able to break through and capture the set 10-8. In the sixth set Richer pushed the match to twelve games before Watt again took the game, set and match.

INTERRUPTED TOURNAMENT

This tournament, which was postponed from early October due to the exodus of harvesters, was resumed about two weeks ago when the Montreal Indoor tennis club generously donated its courts every afternoon from 1.15 p.m. on until the tournament was completed. This has resulted in some very fine tennis, although at first some of the players found it difficult to get used to the difference made by the brick floors.

As the tournament stands now, Watt is the heavy favourite to capture the tennis crown, which he had previously won last year. The other two contestants, Freisensbruch and Henneman are new to the tennis limelight at McGill but both have played some excellent tennis and either is expected to give Watt a hard fight for the crown.

Voluntary Registration for War Work Begins Tomorrow

events, and statements from leaders in war industries, make it clear that the need for this sort of effort will almost certainly be vital before the end of the present session. Accordingly, although registrants may not be called immediately, this does not signify that the need is not great. The other questions all involve smaller matters, not involving a great deal of time or effort, and often not unattractive. Although these jobs are not spectacular, the War Council considers them as an important part of the campus war effort.

10% Tax Proposed

Below the volunteer categories on the form, there is one other question: "Are you in favour of a 10% Surtax (minimum 5c.) on all campus events at which an admission fee is charged." This is the outcome of a suggestion made in the War Council that all campus organizations be asked to turn over 10% of their takings to the student war fund. The council agreed that no such action should be taken without the approval of the student body, and accordingly it was decided to run this poll at the same time as the general registration in order to get a true cross-section of student opinion as to the merits of the scheme.

Varsity to Hold Student-Staff War Conference

Nominations for legatees, signed by the nominee, a nominator and a seconder, are to be submitted to the college or faculty executives on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. From the names submitted the requisite number of representatives will be elected or appointed by the executives. The names will then be submitted to G. H. Johnson, IV U.C., chairman of the sub-committee on Membership, together with an equal number of runners-up as possible substitutes to avoid duplication of courses, where necessary.

The Varsity, in an interview with Johnson, was told of some of the practical difficulties that confront the Committee in attempting to devise an equitable scheme of representation at the Conference.

"We realize that since much of the discussion would center around revising the Arts courses, the ideal method of representation would be to have each course elect its own delegates," said Johnson.

"However, the practical difficulties involved in this method were too great, and the Committee decided instead to make use of the machinery provided by the student governments at each of the colleges. It will be necessary to see that all courses are represented, but as far as possible the names submitted to us by the college executives will be accepted as the official voting delegates to the Conference.

"The Committee representing the Teaching Staff of the University will be asked to see that the staff is adequately represented as far as possible by department heads.

"The whole scheme has arisen from various rather futile attempts during the last six months to discuss these problems at large joint meetings of staff and students," said John Wood, IV U.C.

"The scope of the issues involved, however, necessitated much more detailed and intensive discussion than is possible at single meetings; and it was realized that the solution was such a conference as has been planned, where every aspect of the matter will be discussed in a small caucus of the students concerned."

During the Conference the official delegates will act as liaison between the students and the Conference officials; they will chair and represent sub-committees dealing with particular aspects of the problem and will decide by vote issues which may be raised.

In addition, plans are under way to accommodate as many additional students as possible at the Conference, possibly as spectators.

"In order to secure a truly representative cross-section of student opinion, without which our purpose is meaningless, it is imperative that every student in the University make sure that the men or women who can best represent his faculty have been nominated as delegates," stated Mr. Johnson. "The procedure necessary to being nominated is merely to go to the office of the student governing body in your college or faculty with a nominator and seconder and sign there the list that your executive has prepared. Communications are now in progress with other universities across Canada in an effort to carry out similar proceedings on a national scale. It is hoped that the result of such a powerful consensus of opinion will be of inestimable value to the officials of National Selective Service in Ottawa.

Mr. Wood announced that any suggestions as to topics for discussion or as to program in general should be submitted without hesitation to the office of the S.A.C. in Hart House, to be appended to the already rather lengthy list, which will be published soon in a forthcoming issue of The Varsity.

The Convening Committee is as follows:

T. W. Nixon, Chairman, IV Vic.; C. Birchard, Vice-chairman, II Soc. Sci.; D. Chafetz, Secretary, II Soc. Sci.; G. H. Johnson, Credentials, IV U.C.; J. D. Wood, Publicity, IV U.C.; J. Weld, Program, IV Vic.; G. Rosenbluth, Finance, IV U.C.

part; in its committee on war services; and its support of the I.S.S. and the projected McGill branch of the Canadian League of Nations Society.

Since the S.C.M. is primarily a religious organization the group finds in the religion of Christ its pattern and power for functioning as a "campus democracy," and, as a member has remarked, an important part thereof is its support of the activities of the War Council.

announced, but will be changed to suit the Engineering students on the committee.

The program as outlined so far will consist of a campus-wide campaign to be held during the week after mid-terms, and of smaller events sponsored by individual organizations and scattered throughout the year. Some of the events suggested for the week's campaign are: the writing of slogans in dimes on the floors of the various campus buildings, a tea for down-town businessmen sponsored by University wives, a hockey game and tea dance, and a carnival. The events by campus organizations will in most cases be limited to their own membership and planned according to their own individual interests. In this way the publicity concerning the tremendous tasks I. S. S. is facing and their financial appeal would be concentrated effectively yet sustained throughout the year. Any individuals interested in helping in this work have been requested to contact the local secretary, Mary M. Miller, at R.V.C.

lectual life flowing, and it is upon the students in the privileged areas of the world today that the obligation for doing so largely rests. Through a definite organizational structure within the camp the necessary discipline for carrying on purposeful activity is at hand. It makes little difference whether it be broadening the scope of one's knowledge, improving one's vocational skills, learning a foreign language, maintaining one's physical fitness, or mastering techniques of artistic expression. All of these can be woven into the pattern of camp life and can serve to make the time well used.

A prisoner aided by I. S. S. tells of organizing a school in his camp, "that was the first period of the camp school—one in which we had almost nothing to work with, except our enthusiasm. It was a time when a piece of chalk was a thing to be treasured, when the door had to be used as a blackboard, when an old worn out copy of Shakespeare was a rarity, and when Tables of Logarithms had to be typed in long, weary work from the one copy that was available."

There is no doubt of this work being essential; the only problem to be faced is that we are not meeting the enormous need which confronts us. The areas in which assistance is needed have vastly increased in recent months. Are we going to let down the American students taken in the Far East? the Chinese? the Russians, the British in Libya and Germany? the French, Poles, Czechs, Belgians, and the other conquered nations?

The opportunity has been given us to meet the needs of many of these students and it is our responsibility to do so. When we see what our encouragement and material assistance can mean to men living under these conditions, is it possible that we shall hide our heads ostrich-like in the sands and ignore their urgent cry for help?

We are hearing a lot about post-war reconstruction these days, but what does that mean if we do not accept the opportunities we have of beginning to undergird that structure with our activities—wherever we can immediately? Helping to maintain and develop the intellectual life within these camps all over the world is one of the first steps we can take towards this new order.
